silken banner, and the designer of the winning poster will receive a scholar entatives of all American countries. The Maurtua report was indorsed by Tharles Evans Hughes, head of the Inited States delegation. Mr. Hughes held that a prohibition of interventions not recognized in international law. It goes beyond international law: it goes beyond international law: it goes beyond international law: it goes beyond international law.

Calls U. S. Actions Legal.

He holds that the intervention of the United States in Nicaragua and ther Caribbean countries has been a strict conformity with international w. These interventions have been strict conformity with international w. These interventions have been as in which the United States interred were not discharging the obligations of states. If they should carry their fight to the floor of the conference committee, Latin America would be compelled to go on record as to whether it contends for immunity from intervention, while refusing to acknowledge the obligations of nations which, if discharged, would render intervention unnecessary.

These are the horns of the dilemma with their proposal to outlaw intervention, but Mr. Hughes is resting quite comfortably on the horns of his dilemma, and indications are not wanting that the Latins are far from comfortable on the horns of their dilemma.

INDISCRETION IN THE LORDS.

Somebody in the British house of lords seems to have been so indiscreet as to have referred to what used to be German Past Africa as a British colony, when, as a matter of form, Great Britain has a mandate for German East Africa in the interest of the native population. An article in the German foreign minister's newspaper, organ says that if any European power has a claim to the territory as a colony it is Germany and that under no circumstances can Great Britain annex East Africa.

And so, another week of sensational rug selling begins today

INDEED, it is an ill wind that blows nobody good. Regretting the untoward circumstances which created the motif of this sale—regretting I that many of our dealers in certain sections of the country were compelled to use the "Cancellation" method of handling a tense business situation, yet we must confess to a sense of pleasure in being able to offer our friends and customers such beautiful merchandise at prices far below actual retail value. Good news travels fast, and already the news of this sale has spread throughout the Chicago territory and beyond. If you contemplate purchasing now-or this spring-let us suggest that you avail yourself of this extraordinary opportunity.

SWEDEN'S KING AND QUEEN HONOR POPE AT VATICAN

6th Anniversary of Pius' Coronation.

ROME, Feb. 12.—(?)—The presence of King Gustavus of Sweden and his queen made particularly notable the solemn pontifical high mass celebrated fit the Sistine chapel this morning in observance of the sixth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XI. The pontiff, clad entirely in white, was carsied in the Sedia Gestatoria, the portible throne used only on occasions of eremony. The pope himself preseunced the benediction.

King Gustavus came here last week o join Queen Victoria, who has been saying through the winter, as usual, ther villa here.

DARWEN, England, Feb. 12.—Wild demonstrations against the vicar, the Rev. F. B. Lauria, at St. Cuthbert's church, broke out again today when a part of the congregation protested against the ritualistic practices of the clergyman. The morning service developed into a near riot and the vicar refused to continue. He left the of church.

The protests arose over the "suns Eucharist," called for by the vicar. The protestors rose in a body and countered by singing, "The Church Has One Foundation," and shouted, cin "We demand the Church of England service." This was followed by after

The vicar returned in a short time with police, who took the names of many disturbers. The vicar threatens to take legal action against them.

Demonstrations of this sort have occurred in St. Cuthbert's on several suc-

OPPOSITION RISES
TO SETTLEMENT OF GREEK DEBT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.—Opposition to the debt settlement with Greece favored by the administration is developing and will be led by Representative Crisp [Dem.,

A bill introduced by Representative Burton [Rep., O.] and Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah] embodies an agreement with the Greek government arrange after the debt commission ceased to exist. The feature of the settlement to which Mr. Crisp objects is the which provides that the American government shall loan about $12,000.00

Originally, Greece entered into an agreement under which the United States, Great Britain and France were to share equally in a loan to Greece of 750 million francs. The United States advanced $15,000,000. No further advances were made after the fail of the Greek government in 1920. After the Greek government was recognized by the United States, it claimed that it was entitled to further advances of $33,000,000 to the full daughter. Mrs. Louis Hitchcock, a

ORIENTAL RUGS

In Their Annual

Inventory Sale

One glance at the values quoted below can't help but inspire the thought, "Why should I be satisfied with a commercial, machine-made rug or carpet, when I can buy a beautiful, luxurious, permanently serviceable, hand-woven Oriental Rug at such prices as these?"

It will pay you handsomely to think it over, compare and investigate. Values like these are far too rare to ignore.

If you need a large room-size rug, there's real economy in buying "Real Orientals" at the very low prices quoted. There's wonderful wear and satisfaction in them.

Through her Spare Rooms she earns a steady income

LIKE many housewives in Chicago, Mrs. Frank Crawford of 4725 Gladys avenue found that she could materially reduce her housekeeping expenses by renting spare rooms to lodgers. But unlike many who have ventured into this business, she has successfully managed to escape the uncertainties connected with it. The long waits while rooms are vacant . . . th danger of renting to undesirable people And Mrs. Crawford attributes this to the free use she makes of Tribune Want Ads.

Twice since the beginning of the year she has had occasion to prove the real worth of this medium. For each time suddenly vacated room confronted her with the problem of quickly re-renting it -that the regularity of her income might not be impaired. On each occasion she has called The Tribune Adtaker, and enlisted The Tribune's help with unvarying success, renting the room the day her ad appeared. "And," as Mrs. Crawford writes, "the best part of it is that The Tribune has never furnished me with an undesirable person."

The surest and most economical way of renting spare rooms lies in following Mrs. Crawford's example and enlisting The Tribune's help by calling . . .

As she spoke her eyes searched his agerly, so it seemed to Esther, but his heavy features remained

"Tou tell him, Dido, dear," she said gently; "I knew you would like to."

Thank you, Therese: "

With a grateful smile the old lady disappeared into the bedroom, folled by the doctor, and Esther was left alone with her employer. Lady first did not giance in her direction, but put up her hand with a restless, stable movement and swept the big wavy lock of her hair off her forehead. "How hot it is in here!" she exclaimed, going to the nearest window it linging it open with a jerk. "Stiffing! There, that is better," he stood for several seconds breathing in the fresh air, her body tense if on steel wires, her head thrown back. WED Two Pianists Offer Interesting Contrast in Sunday Programs

Two planists at adjoining theaters offered interesting contrast to plano fans yesterday. At the Studebaker Ernest Hutcheson, who in the between-times of concert giving functions as the director general of the Juillard Foundation, confined his program to the classicists, venturing no further down or un the reals to moderative down, or up, the scale to modernity than Schubert and the Schubert-Liszt "Eriking," with Bach, Schumann, and Chopin in the foreground of the pro

Chopin in the foreground of the program.

His playing had the friendly ease of long acquaintance with these masters. Serene and unafraid he played through his list, poised and reposeful. This suited well the mild mannerisms of the Schumann Sonata in G minor and the Chopin group following. No plano pounder is Mr. Hutcheson, but a cool and seasoned player. A fair sized audience approved heartily.

Next door at the Playhouse William N. Hughes [remember the name], hailing from Hawaii, the home of the happy plneapple, was making his first professional appearance. Young Mr. Hughes is in the possession of many talents, including a fine pair of pianistic hands and a level head. He had fire and youth and a disdainful disregard for such difficulties as are presented by the Griffes "White Peacock" and a group of Debussy ending in the prilliant and Moussorysky, like "Fire sentative of the policies of the church people of coe announces the marriage of her daughter, Dorothy, to Robert Mich-ener Schreffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. There is a delicate pianistic coloring always present in Mr. Barry's recitals.

To overlook the importance of the individual contributions of the ninety men composing the Chicago Business Men's orchestra, would be to miss one of the delights of this organization's program from WEBH, 5 to 6:10. The enjoyable work by the entire orchestra could only have been produced by the conscientious preparation of each could only have been produced by the conscientious preparation of each player.

During the Symphony hour, from New York, through WQJ, 2 to 3, Schubert's symphony in B flat was played complete. Our orchestras might occasionally give us the exceedingly pretty third, or minuet, movement. Exceedingly striking in its modernity was a sonata for two clarinets by Poulenc.

The choral program by the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, WJJD, 9 to 10, was worthy of unstinted praise.

In the ballad group his enunciation was clear and musical, a model for any singer. Mamette Guilford, a young Metropolitan Opera company soprano, assisting on this program, was a puzzle to me. I was totally unappreciative of anything she sang, except the Jewel song from "Faust," which I thought was done with great beauty of tone. There was certainly nothing more timely or impressive yesterday afternoon than the narration of reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln by eight elderly men and women from W-G-N studio, 4 to 445. All the Old Virtues in Girls They Love BY DORIS BLAKE. Last week we published the quali cations that go into the making of the "ideal husband" as presented by a half dozen young church women in a Long Island congregation. Just to prove that members of the other sex, too, have dreams about their marriage partner, there follow extracts from the letters of young men, written at the solicitation of the same minister:

"I like s. girl who loves to do the thing I do and takes part in social, athletic, and recreational activities. I would like her to be capable, reliable, and responsible—one who is a leader."
"To describe the ideal girl is but to portray all the virtues which we require in a deity. To me she repre-sents an association that will create an undying worship, a good housewife."

"Perhaps I'm not typical enough for my ideas to be as useful to you as you may imagine. I take it for granted that a girl who would accept me would stand behind me under all circumstances."

"As I sit here writing of my ideal girl, a vision of a breakfast table comes before my eyes, with a girl sitting opposite me, not at one breakfast, but many, stretching forth through the years."

Health and Beauty

Do you suppose that people realize what they look like when they walk?"

"No, if they did, they wouldn't," came the swift reply. All of our lives we long to be free—to think freely, to live freely, and richly, to move through life with a sense of gracious space.

But always we are captive to something.

Now and then one seems to escape and be free. And that one will carry about with her the spirit of high adventure, a joyous "What beyond the turn? Anything may happen!" She will fling the dust aside as she walks as though she knew it was star-dust and pleasant to fling. Beauty is to her not a luxury but one of the first decencies of life. She enters a room as though she had just made a sunrise. She is Health. She is Joy. She is Frw.

Joy. She is Free.

Until Wednesday, such a woman is at Elizabeth Arden's Salon. She has come from New York where she is the head of Miss Arden's Exercise Department to give to the women of Chicago this triumphant freedom. When one has talked with her and has watched her swift, sure, penetrating diagnosis of each individual's needs, has seen her flow through the rhythmic half-dance, half-exercise movements that are the foundation of Elizabeth Arden's amazing success as a beautician of the whole—not merely the face but of the whole person, one feels, "Here is a true and beautiful thing. The whole point of living is here—the bringing up of all things to the highest point of beauty possible, to use beautifully all that you have, to live freely, with a body that is like strong supple wings, singing with health in every cell, as the base on which you build your spiritual and emotional life. A sound body and a free mind—they are here."

Medical authorities are pointing out to mothers a surprising fact. It is that, oven though your baby has the great advantage of being breastfed, there is still a grave danger that his bones and teeth will not form properly; will be soft and porous instead of solid and strong. There are only two sources of protection against this. Sunshine and good cod-liver oil. Direct Sunshine could keep him safe if he could get enough on his bare body. But clothing, clouds, fog and smoke make this impossible. Even ordinary window glass filters out the protecting rays—the invisible ultra-violet rays.

So physicians urge the use of Months of the conty practical way to assure correct formation of your baby's bones and teeth. And thousands of them insist upon one particular kind—Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer it because laboratory tests show it to be exceptionally rich in the protective elements, Vitamin A and Vitamin D.

Squibb's Cod Liver Oil is all oil, undilluted. So that you get the full value of its protecting power with minimum dosage.

To build sound teeth and strong bones for your baby, rely on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil—Vitamintested, and Vitamin-protected. All reliable drug stores have it.
